FACING HISTORY AND OURSELVES

February 9 and 10, 2012

The Virginia Holocaust Museum is proud to announce a Facing History and Ourselves workshop. The one-day class – taught by professional educator Mary Johnson, PhD – will focus on new research concerning mass murders perpetrated by both the Soviets and Germans during the World War period and how this is impacting Holocaust and genocide studies.

Each session is limited to 30 seats so please sign-up soon. The workshop is free and includes lunch.
